TABLE OF CONTENTS

MORE THAN A SCORE

We believe that you were born with a unique set of strengths. Standardized test scores and GPA measure only a fraction of your abilities. Indigo measures a much wider range of attributes, helping you to discover areas in which you will thrive.

THERE ARE 3 SECTIONS TO THIS PROFILE:

1. Style - "How you do things." This section describes your behavioral style.

Knowing your style helps you choose an environment in which you will thrive.

2. Motivators - "Why you do things." This section describes what motivates you.

Knowing your motivators helps you choose a college program and career that is personally meaningful.

3. Next Steps - This section provides possible education and career paths.

STYLE: YOUR STYLE

This describes your basic, natural behavioral style. Everyone is different and there is no right or wrong way to be.

Angel is often considered daring, bold and gutsy. He is a risk taker who likes to be seen as an individualist. He may lose interest in a project once the challenge ceases. He may then be ready for another challenging project. He may be so self-confident that others see him as arrogant. This confidence may be something others wish they had. He wants to be viewed as self-reliant and willing to pay the price for success. Angel is an aggressive individual who wins through hard work and persistence; that is, he will come up with a good idea and follow through. Most people see him as a high risk-taker. His view is, "nothing ventured, nothing gained." He wants to be seen as a winner and has an inherent dislike for losing or failing. He tends to work hard and long to be successful. He is forward-looking, aggressive and competitive. His vision for results is one of his positive strengths. Angel likes to be forceful and direct when dealing with others. His desire for results is readily apparent to the people with whom he works. He likes people, but can be seen occasionally as cold and blunt. He may have his mind on project results, and sometimes may not take the time to be empathetic toward others.

Angel has the unique ability of tackling tough problems and following them through to a satisfactory conclusion. He is a good problem solver and troubleshooter, always seeking new ways to solve old problems. Logic and people who have the facts and data to support this logic influence him. He admires the patience required to gather facts and data. He should realize that at times he needs to think a project through, beginning to end, before starting the project. Many people see his decisions as high-risk decisions. However, after the decision is made, he tends to work hard for a successful outcome. He prefers authority equal to his responsibility. He refrains from getting emotionally involved in decision making. This allows him to make objective decisions. Sometimes he may be so opinionated about a particular problem that he has difficulty letting others participate in the process.

Angel could improve his communication with others by being more flexible and showing a sincere interest in what they are saying. He is influenced by people who communicate with a logical presentation of the facts, impressed by the apparent efficiency involved. He likes people who communicate with him in a clear, precise and brief conversation. When communicating with others, Angel must carefully avoid being excessively critical or pushy. He tries to get on with the subject, while others may be trying to work through the details. Angel may display a lack of empathy for others who cannot achieve his standards. He likes people who present their case effectively. When they do, he can then make a quicker assessment or decision. He may lose interest in what others are saying if they ramble or don't speak to the point. His active mind is already moving ahead. He likes people who give him options as compared to their opinions. The options may help him make decisions, and he values his own opinion over that of others!

STYLE: WHAT OTHERS MAY VALUE IN YOU

- Inner-directed rather than tradition-directed--brings fresh ideas for solving problems.
- Competitive.
- Places high value on time.
- Will join organizations to represent the company.
- Pioneering.
- Creative in his approach to solving problems.
- Innovative.
- Usually makes decisions with the bottom line in mind.
- Tenacious.

STYLE: POTENTIAL WEAKNESSES WITH YOUR STYLE

Every behavioral style has inherent positives and negatives. This section lists some possible behaviors that may hold you back in life. Knowing what they are will help you get along with others and reduce stress.

- Lack tact and diplomacy as long as he gets the results he wants.
- Have trouble delegating--can't wait, so does it himself.
- Overuse fear as a motivator by being overly demanding.
- Dislike routine work or routine people--unless he sees the need to further his goals.
- Be argumentative--creates the devil's advocate position to its highest form--or wears down opposition.
- Make "off the cuff" remarks that are often seen as personal prods.

STYLE: HOW OTHER PEOPLE SHOULD COMMUNICATE WITH YOU...

This page provides other people a list of things to DO when communicating with you. This is how you like to be communicated with. Everyone has different communication styles. Knowing your style and acknowledging other's styles is critical to success in any job or relationship.

- Motivate and persuade by referring to objectives and results.
- Stress logic.
- Provide facts and figures about probability of success, or effectiveness of options.
- Stick to business--let him decide if he wants to talk socially.
- Read the body language--look for impatience or disapproval.
- Understand his defiant nature.
- Take issue with facts, not the person, if you disagree.
- Be clear, specific, brief and to the point.
- Ask specific (preferably "what?") questions.
- Provide "yes" or "no" answers--not maybe.
- Expect him to return to fight another day when he has received a "no" answer.

STYLE: ... AND HOW OTHERS SHOULD NOT COMMUNICATE WITH YOU

This page provides other people a list of things NOT to do when communicating with you. Everyone has different communication styles. Knowing your style and acknowledging other's styles is critical to success in any job or relationship.

- Come with a ready-made decision, or make it for him.
- Let disagreement reflect on him personally.
- Be redundant.
- Ramble on, or waste his time.
- Be paternalistic.
- Direct or order.
- Ask rhetorical questions, or useless ones.
- Forget or lose things, be disorganized or messy, confuse or distract his mind from business.
- Feel you have changed his opinion without supporting facts.
- Muffle or overcontrol.

STYLE: YOUR STRENGTHS

These are areas where you really shine! Use these strengths to talk about yourself on college applications, job/internship interviews, and with teammates for school projects and extracurricular activities. Practice using your strengths every opportunity you can.

- Willing to make high-risk decisions.
- Forward-looking to improve himself or a situation.
- Can be resourceful to influence others to get results.
- Wants to maximize time and resources now, as opposed to later.
- Leads by example and in a quiet and methodical way.
- Wants to control his destiny, but does so in a soft way.
- Takes a methodical approach to implementing changes that will increase return on investment.
- When stability is established, he can become entrepreneurial.

STYLE: SOME POTENTIAL CHALLENGES

The areas below are things to be careful of because they may create roadblocks to your success. Identify any areas that may be affecting your success now and develop an action plan to overcome these challenges.

- Can set personal standards too high.
- May always want to display his superiority through problems or challenges.
- May tend to flaunt success and use money as a scorecard.
- Will override other variables for the sake of an investment.
- Forgives but has a hard time forgetting.
- Can come across as stubborn and unwilling to change.
- Puts all his "eggs in one basket".
- May have difficulty breaking unwanted work-related habits for fear of wasting time.

STYLE: YOUR IDEAL WORK ENVIRONMENT

An ideal working environment for you should include elements from this list.

- Evaluation based on results, not the process.
- An innovative and futuristic-oriented environment.
- Rewards for a methodical and persistent drive for results.
- The need for consistent, reliable and stable contributions to the bottom-line.
- Management that appreciates and rewards powerful risk-taking.
- Opportunity to be the silent leader behind the team.

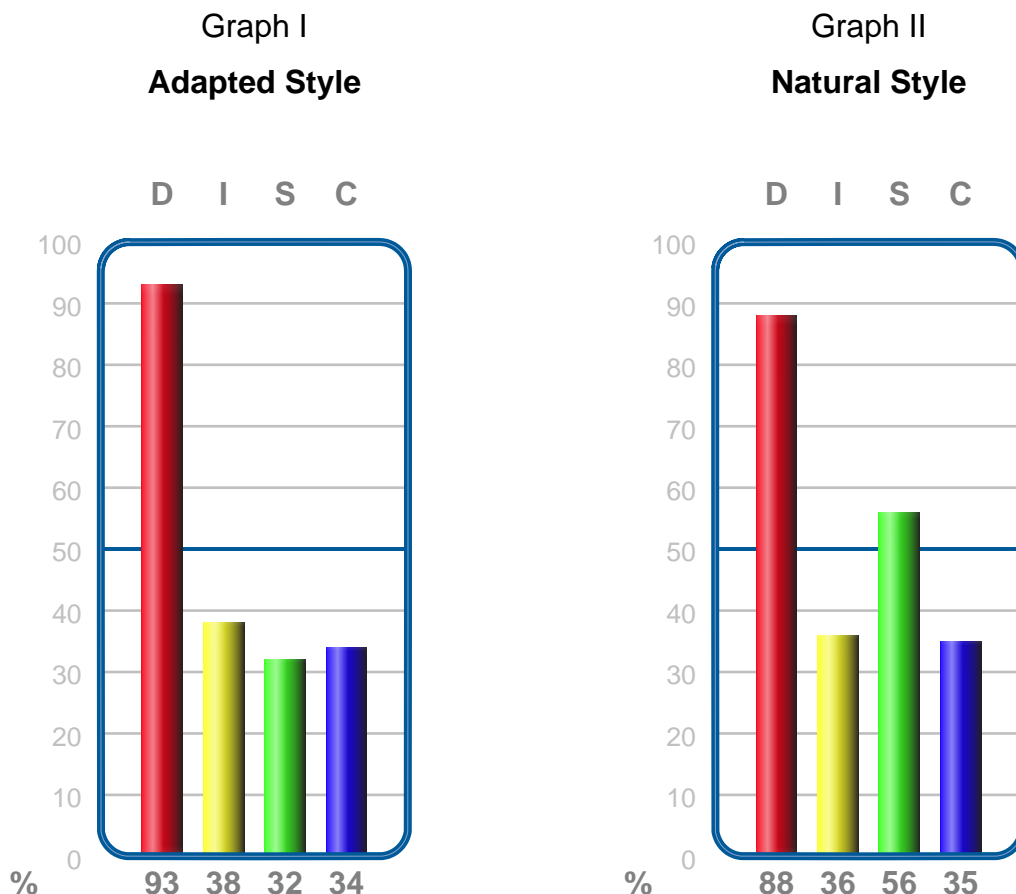

STYLE: THINGS YOU MAY WANT FROM OTHERS

People are more motivated when they choose careers and college programs that satisfy their unique set of "wants".

- Opportunity for rapid advancement.
- Activities he can start and finish.
- The understanding from management that rewards come in different shapes and sizes as well as speed.
- Logical, predictable ways to achieve goals and the time needed to achieve them.
- A manager and a team that understands the value of short-term and fast-moving ideas and results.
- Time to determine when and where to share information.

STYLE: YOUR STYLE INSIGHTS® GRAPHS

The graphs below represent your adapted and natural behavioral styles based on the DISC model. D stands for dominance. I stands for influencing. S stands for steadiness. C stands for compliance. The graph on the right represents your natural style and the graph on the left represents your adapted style based on current circumstances.

Norm 2015 R4

C, the blue bar on the graphs, stands for Compliance. High C's tend to be analytical, cautious, accurate, and detail oriented. Low C's tend to be independent, unsystematic, stubborn, and unconcerned with details. The emotion associated with high C's is fear.

Famous high C's are Al Gore and Hermione from Harry Potter.

MOTIVATORS: INTRODUCTION TO WHAT MOTIVATES YOU

This section describes why you do things. Motivators are like an engine beneath the hood of a car. Motivators aren't easily seen from the outside but they are what power you. This is important to your college and career choice because motivators correlate directly to fulfillment and meaning. Most people are happiest selecting a major and career based on their top two motivators.

When interpreting your motivator scores, think of your motivators as related to a fire hose. Your top motivators are a widespread stream that covers all aspects of your life. Your bottom motivators are like a concentrated stream and only appear in specific areas where that motivator matters to you.

The Indigo Assessment measures six motivators:

1. Aesthetic – Desire for form, harmony and beauty.
2. Individualistic – Desire for control, rank and power.
3. Social – Desire to help others and solve social problems.
4. Theoretical – Desire to learn for the sake of knowledge.
5. Traditional – Desire to live by a set of rules, standards or beliefs.
6. Utilitarian – Desire for a return on investment of time, energy or money.

The next page ranks your relative passion for each of the six motivators. The pages following your ranking list your motivators in order of importance to you and how each motivator may affect your life decisions at this time.

DRIVING FORCES GRAPH

Eduard Spranger first defined six primary types or categories to define human motivation and drive. These six types are Theoretical, Utilitarian, Aesthetic, Social, Individualistic and Traditional. The 12 Driving Forces are derived by looking at each motivator on a continuum and describing both ends. All of the twelve descriptors are based on six keywords, one for each continuum. The six keywords are Knowledge, Utility, Surroundings, Others, Power and Methodologies. Focus on activities and work that relate to your highest driving forces scores.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE INDIVIDUALISTIC MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High individualistic scores indicate the desire to gain power, lead others, and advance in position. Typically, high "individualistics" want to appear in the public eye. This motivator is sometimes called the political value. If individualistic is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless you are in control of your own destiny and are publically recognized for your contributions.

- Controlling the situation is important to him, but he also wants to have the financial wherewithal to sustain that control.
- Angel may go to extremes to win or control the situation.
- He enjoys public recognition for his contributions made for the betterment of those in need.
- At times, he believes all is fair in love and war.
- He wants to not only control his own destiny, but the destiny of others.
- Control of the situation is the primary concern for him. The limelight is not a requirement as long as credit is given where credit is due.
- He will work long and hard to achieve positions that will allow him to interject his philosophies.
- His intellectual curiosity and information will be used to control many situations.
- Angel believes you have to do what works for you.
- Angel believes he deserves the very best that life has to offer.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE UTILITARIAN MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High utilitarian scores indicate a desire to get a return on investment. Investments may be financial, time or energy. Typically "utilitarians" focus on results and may be money motivated. This value often includes the practical affairs of the business world- the production, marketing and consumption of goods, and the accumulation of tangible wealth. If utilitarian is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless you feel like you are receiving a return on your investment of time or energy.

- Angel tends to give freely of time and resources, but will want and expect a return on his investment.
- Goals for the future are easily accomplished with his ability to integrate the past and the present.
- He may use wealth as a yardstick to measure his work effort.
- The accumulation of material possessions results from his ability to follow through and accomplish goals.
- Angel is good at achieving goals.
- He evaluates things for their utility and economic return.
- He will work long and hard to satisfy his needs.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE THEORETICAL MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High theoretical scores indicate a desire to discover truths by learning for the sake of knowing. Typically, high "theoreticals" like to study, read, seek knowledge, and research. If theoretical is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless you are continually challenged with new information and given opportunities to learn new things.

- In those areas where Angel has a special interest he will be good at integrating past knowledge to solve current problems.
- Angel will seek knowledge based on his needs in individual situations.
- Angel will usually have the data to support his convictions.
- If Angel is truly interested in a specific subject, or if knowledge of specific subject matter is required for success, then he will take the initiative to learn about that subject in great depth.
- A job that challenges the knowledge will increase his job satisfaction.
- Angel has the potential to become an expert in his chosen field.
- If knowledge of a specific subject is not of interest, or is not required for success, Angel will have a tendency to rely on his intuition or practical information in this area.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE SOCIAL MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High social scores indicate the desire to help others and an inherent love of people. Typically "socials" are altruistic and are motivated to give back to society in some way. They might volunteer, spend time on community projects and charities, or solve global, social, and environmental problems. If social is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied if you are not doing something that helps others.

- Angel's desire to help others (even to his own detriment) or decision not to help others, is reviewed on an individual basis.
- Angel will definitely attempt to help an individual or group overcome a predicament, but only if they have "touched the right chords" within him.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE AESTHETIC MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High aesthetic scores indicate a desire to experience form, beauty and harmony in the world. Typically "aesthetics" need an attractive living and working environment. They may enjoy nature, various art forms and can be excellent long-range planners due to their desire to create harmonious outcomes. A high score does not necessarily mean that you have talents in creative artistry. If aesthetic is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless your physical environment is appealing to you and your aesthetic value is utilized in your working environment.

- He wants to take a practical approach to events.
- He is a very practical person who is not sensitive to being in harmony with his surroundings.
- Angel is not necessarily worried about form and beauty in his environment.
- Unpleasant surroundings will not stifle his creativity.
- Intellectually, Angel can see the need for beauty, but has difficulty buying the finer things in life.
- The utility of "something" is more important than its beauty, form and harmony.
- Angel's passion in life will be found in one or two of the other motivators discussed in this report.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE TRADITIONAL MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High traditional scores indicate a desire to live by a certain set of standards or beliefs that provide a basis for making life decisions. Typically, high "traditionals" have a very strong "faith" or strong cultural values. If this is a primary motivator, it's important to identify where your traditional values stem from. You can have a high traditional score and not embrace a religion, for example. You may base your traditions on family, a strong internal moral compass, or culture. If traditional is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless your beliefs are respected and you are allowed to live and work in a way that aligns with those beliefs.

- Traditions will not place limits or boundaries on Angel.
- He will not be afraid to explore new and different ways of interpreting his own belief system.
- Angel's passion in life will be found in one or two of the other dimensions discussed in this report.
- In many cases, Angel will want to set his own rules which will allow his own intuition to guide and direct his actions.
- Angel can be creative in interpreting other systems or traditions and selective in applying those traditions.
- He will work within a broadly defined set of beliefs.
- It may be hard to manipulate Angel because he has not defined a philosophy or system that can provide immediate answers to every situation.

NEXT STEPS: POSSIBLE CAREER IDEAS

Today's workplace is in constant change and careers are evolving to keep pace. It is not unusual for people to change careers 4-5 times during their lives. Research indicates that over 50% of working people hold jobs that do not utilize their natural talents, so they are neither fully motivated nor satisfied in their work.

Given these realities, it is more important than ever to make informed career decisions based on a solid understanding of yourself. The list of jobs below has been designed to spark your imagination and provide ideas. The message is: "Your options are many." These ideas are not meant to put you in a box or represent a definitive list of options. If your dream job isn't on the list, don't worry, go for it!
