TABLE OF CONTENTS

MORE THAN A SCORE

We believe that you were born with a unique set of strengths. Standardized test scores and GPA measure only a fraction of your abilities. Indigo measures a much wider range of attributes, helping you to discover areas in which you will thrive.

THERE ARE 3 SECTIONS TO THIS PROFILE:

1. Style - "How you do things." This section describes your behavioral style.

Knowing your style helps you choose an environment in which you will thrive.

2. Motivators - "Why you do things." This section describes what motivates you.

Knowing your motivators helps you choose a college program and career that is personally meaningful.

3. Next Steps - This section provides possible education and career paths.

STYLE: YOUR STYLE

This describes your basic, natural behavioral style. Everyone is different and there is no right or wrong way to be.

genaro likes to win through persistence. He uses his strong, steady tendencies to accomplish his goals. When the time is right, genaro can stand up aggressively for what he believes. When people are involved, he may not always be precise about the use of his time. Once genaro has come to a decision, others may find it difficult to change his mind. If changes are inevitable, and he sees enough benefits, they will be made. genaro can be open, patient and tolerant of differences. His natural quality of being nonjudgmental is a great strength. Because he is receptive and listens well, he excels in gathering information. When challenged, he becomes more objective. He can be spontaneous and casual in familiar circumstances. The familiar atmosphere allows spontaneity when he is in his comfort zone. He looks to people for support and inner-satisfaction as a way to reach his personal goals. genaro is family-oriented. He may go to great lengths to ensure the "happiness" of his personal or work family. Others see him as a good neighbor, since he is always willing to help those he considers to be his friends.

genaro can be sensitive to the feelings of others and is able to display real empathy for those who are experiencing difficulties. Once he has arrived at a decision, he can be tough-minded and unbending. He has made his decision after gathering much data, and he probably won't want to repeat the process. He often thinks over major decisions before acting. He is good at analyzing situations that can be felt, touched, seen, heard, personally observed or experienced. His motto is, "facts are facts." genaro prefers to plan his work and work his plan. Others may find it refreshing to have him on their team. He is persistent and persevering in his approach to achieving goals. He finds making decisions easier when he knows that others he respects are doing the same thing; he then has a feeling of stability and "family."

genaro is quick to pick up on group dynamics and skilled in fitting in with a group. He brings both speaking and listening skills to the group. He will be open with those he trusts; however, reaching the required trust level may take time. He usually is considerate, compassionate and accepting of others; however, on some occasions can become stubborn. Stubbornness surfaces when his ideals and beliefs are confronted. He likes to know what is expected of him in a working relationship and have the duties and responsibilities of others who will be involved explained. Communication is accomplished best by well-defined avenues. genaro likes a friendly, open style of communication.

STYLE: WHAT OTHERS MAY VALUE IN YOU

- Accomplishes goals through people.
- Optimistic and enthusiastic.
- Service-oriented.
- Positive sense of humor.
- Builds good relationships.
- Works for a leader and a cause.
- Verbalizes his feelings.

STYLE: POTENTIAL WEAKNESSES WITH YOUR STYLE

Every behavioral style has inherent positives and negatives. This section lists some possible behaviors that may hold you back in life. Knowing what they are will help you get along with others and reduce stress.

- Not let others know where he stands on an issue.
- Yield to avoid controversy--attempt to avoid the antagonistic environment.
- Dislike change if he feels the change is unwarranted.
- Not project a sense of urgency--others may not feel the pressure to help immediately.
- Have difficulty establishing priorities. Have a tendency to make all things a number one priority--may have trouble meeting deadlines.
- Not take action against those who challenge or break the rules or guidelines.
- Need help in prioritizing new assignments.

STYLE: HOW OTHER PEOPLE SHOULD COMMUNICATE WITH YOU...

This page provides other people a list of things to DO when communicating with you. This is how you like to be communicated with. Everyone has different communication styles. Knowing your style and acknowledging other's styles is critical to success in any job or relationship.

- Present your case softly, nonthreateningly with a sincere tone of voice.
- Watch carefully for possible areas of early disagreement or dissatisfaction.
- Provide a friendly environment.
- Read the body language for approval or disapproval.
- Start, however briefly, with a personal comment. Break the ice.
- Ask "how?" questions to draw his opinions.
- Define clearly (preferably in writing) individual contributions.
- Offer special, immediate and continuing incentives for his willingness to take risks.
- Provide testimonials from people he sees as important.
- Use enough time to be stimulating, fun-loving, fast-moving.
- Provide ideas for implementing action.

STYLE: ... AND HOW OTHERS SHOULD NOT COMMUNICATE WITH YOU

This page provides other people a list of things NOT to do when communicating with you. Everyone has different communication styles. Knowing your style and acknowledging other's styles is critical to success in any job or relationship.

- Force him to respond quickly to your objectives. Don't say "Here's how I see it."
- Be abrupt and rapid.
- "Dream" with him or you'll lose time.
- Take credit for his ideas.
- Talk down to him.
- Leave decisions hanging in the air.
- Offer assurance and guarantees you can't fulfill.
- Be domineering or demanding; don't threaten with position power.
- Patronize or demean him by using subtlety or incentive.
- Be curt, cold or tight-lipped.
- Keep deciding for him, or he'll lose initiative. Don't leave him without backup support.

STYLE: YOUR STRENGTHS

These are areas where you really shine! Use these strengths to talk about yourself on college applications, job/internship interviews, and with teammates for school projects and extracurricular activities. Practice using your strengths every opportunity you can.

- Strong supporter, therefore, always willing to help.
- Wants to methodically solve people-related problems that benefit the greater good.
- Desire for continuous learning is one of his greatest strengths.
- Delivers his knowledge and wisdom objectively.
- Sings the praises of peers and the contributions others make.
- Always willing to offer his time and perspective.
- Thinks outside of the box when gathering information.
- Looks for the positive side of every situation.

STYLE: SOME POTENTIAL CHALLENGES

The areas below are things to be careful of because they may create roadblocks to your success. Identify any areas that may be affecting your success now and develop an action plan to overcome these challenges.

- Can take a long time in addressing sensitive issues that could help others.
- Sees change for change's sake as negative for himself and others.
- May have difficulty sharing subjective information.
- Resents change without logical facts and reasoning behind the change.
- May overestimate the impact he can have on others.
- High trust and a desire to help could lead to being taken advantage of.
- May overlook vital details in his pursuit of information.
- Will tend to elaborate on limited data.

STYLE: YOUR IDEAL WORK ENVIRONMENT

An ideal working environment for you should include elements from this list.

- Democratic supervisor with whom he can associate.
- Little conflict between people.
- Flexibility to explore a variety of outlets for learning in a people-rich environment.
- A credible manager that provides enough information.
- An environment where understanding and appreciating others is rewarded.
- To be partnered with sincere and genuine co-workers, all going for the same cause.

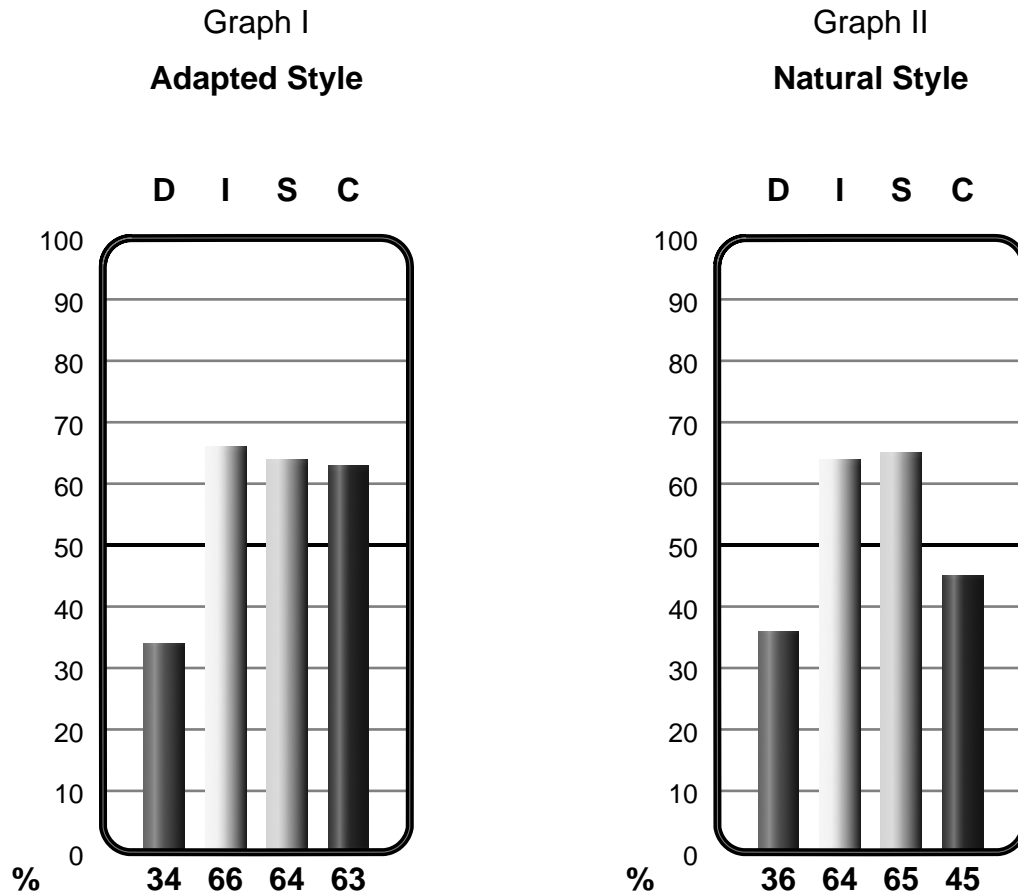

STYLE: THINGS YOU MAY WANT FROM OTHERS

People are more motivated when they choose careers and college programs that satisfy their unique set of "wants".

- Participation in meetings on future planning.
- A friendly work environment.
- Praise for his knowledge base and research capabilities.
- To be seen as the keeper of information.
- Support others in the organization's quest to make a difference.
- Consistency in ways he can contribute to people, the organization and causes.

STYLE: YOUR STYLE INSIGHTS® GRAPHS

The graphs below represent your adapted and natural behavioral styles based on the DISC model. D stands for dominance. I stands for influencing. S stands for steadiness. C stands for compliance. The graph on the right represents your natural style and the graph on the left represents your adapted style based on current circumstances.

Famous high C's are Al Gore and Hermione from Harry Potter.

MOTIVATORS: INTRODUCTION TO WHAT MOTIVATES YOU

This section describes why you do things. Motivators are like an engine beneath the hood of a car. Motivators aren't easily seen from the outside but they are what power you. This is important to your college and career choice because motivators correlate directly to fulfillment and meaning. Most people are happiest selecting a major and career based on their top two motivators.

When interpreting your motivator scores, think of your motivators as related to a fire hose. Your top motivators are a widespread stream that covers all aspects of your life. Your bottom motivators are like a concentrated stream and only appear in specific areas where that motivator matters to you.

The Indigo Assessment measures six motivators:

1. Aesthetic – Desire for form, harmony and beauty.
2. Individualistic – Desire for control, rank and power.
3. Social – Desire to help others and solve social problems.
4. Theoretical – Desire to learn for the sake of knowledge.
5. Traditional – Desire to live by a set of rules, standards or beliefs.
6. Utilitarian – Desire for a return on investment of time, energy or money.

The next page ranks your relative passion for each of the six motivators. The pages following your ranking list your motivators in order of importance to you and how each motivator may affect your life decisions at this time.

For more information about motivators visit www.IndigotheAssessment.com .

DRIVING FORCES GRAPH

Eduard Spranger first defined six primary types or categories to define human motivation and drive. These six types are Theoretical, Utilitarian, Aesthetic, Social, Individualistic and Traditional. The 12 Driving Forces are derived by looking at each motivator on a continuum and describing both ends. All of the twelve descriptors are based on six keywords, one for each continuum. The six keywords are Knowledge, Utility, Surroundings, Others, Power and Methodologies. Focus on activities and work that relate to your highest driving forces scores.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE SOCIAL MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High social scores indicate the desire to help others and an inherent love of people. Typically "socials" are altruistic and are motivated to give back to society in some way. They might volunteer, spend time on community projects and charities, or solve global, social, and environmental problems. If social is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied if you are not doing something that helps others.

- He is generous with his time, talent and resources for those in need.
- He believes charities should be supported.
- Helping the homeless may be one of his concerns.
- Saying "no" is difficult when others need his time or talent.
- genaro will be generous with time, research and information on social problems.
- genaro is patient and sensitive to others.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE THEORETICAL MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High theoretical scores indicate a desire to discover truths by learning for the sake of knowing. Typically, high "theoreticals" like to study, read, seek knowledge, and research. If theoretical is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless you are continually challenged with new information and given opportunities to learn new things.

- genaro has the potential to become an expert in his chosen field.
- He will usually have the data to support his convictions.
- He may have difficulty putting down a good book.
- genaro is very good at integrating past knowledge to solve present problems.
- A comfortable job for genaro is one that challenges his knowledge.
- genaro is comfortable around people who share his interest for knowledge and especially those people with similar convictions.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE INDIVIDUALISTIC MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High individualistic scores indicate the desire to gain power, lead others, and advance in position. Typically, high "individualistics" want to appear in the public eye. This motivator is sometimes called the political value. If individualistic is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless you are in control of your own destiny and are publically recognized for your contributions.

- The amount of control he attempts will increase if he has strong feelings about the issues involved with the situation. If, however, he has little interest in the issues involved, he will not see the need for exercising control.
- He will evaluate each situation individually and determine how much or how little control he will want to exercise.
- genaro can be assertive in meeting his needs.
- At times genaro can be very competitive.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE AESTHETIC MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High aesthetic scores indicate a desire to experience form, beauty and harmony in the world. Typically "aesthetics" need an attractive living and working environment. They may enjoy nature, various art forms and can be excellent long-range planners due to their desire to create harmonious outcomes. A high score does not necessarily mean that you have talents in creative artistry. If aesthetic is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless your physical environment is appealing to you and your aesthetic value is utilized in your working environment.

- The need for the appreciation of beauty is determined on an individual basis and is not generalized in terms of the total world around him.
- There could be a specific area that is of great interest to him. For instance, he may be appreciative of the natural beauty of mountains and streams, but may not be overly impressed by the works of Picasso or Rembrandt.
- genaro may desire fine things for his spouse or family members.
- At times genaro will look for the beauty in all things.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE UTILITARIAN MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High utilitarian scores indicate a desire to get a return on investment. Investments may be financial, time or energy. Typically "utilitarians" focus on results and may be money motivated. This value often includes the practical affairs of the business world- the production, marketing and consumption of goods, and the accumulation of tangible wealth. If utilitarian is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless you feel like you are receiving a return on your investment of time or energy.

- genaro will accept his financial situation and not strive to change it.
- There is not a tremendous need for genaro to have great sums of money.
- Overemphasizing the value of money will bore genaro and turn him off.
- genaro will use his money to satisfy his true motivation.
- genaro will not be swayed or motivated by what he feels are excessive material goals.
- He is motivated by internal beliefs and does not feel compelled to impress others with material things.
- Money and material possessions are not a high priority for genaro.
- genaro will seek a comfort level in his standard of living and try to maintain that level.
- genaro will not use money as a scorecard to impress others.
- Financial security is not a necessity, but a long-term goal.

MOTIVATORS: HOW THE TRADITIONAL MOTIVATOR MAY AFFECT YOUR LIFE DECISIONS

High traditional scores indicate a desire to live by a certain set of standards or beliefs that provide a basis for making life decisions. Typically, high "traditionals" have a very strong "faith" or strong cultural values. If this is a primary motivator, it's important to identify where your traditional values stem from. You can have a high traditional score and not embrace a religion, for example. You may base your traditions on family, a strong internal moral compass, or culture. If traditional is one of your top two motivators, you will not feel satisfied unless your beliefs are respected and you are allowed to live and work in a way that aligns with those beliefs.

- In many cases, genaro will want to set his own rules which will allow his own intuition to guide and direct his actions.
- It may be hard to manipulate genaro because he has not defined a philosophy or system that can provide immediate answers to every situation.
- genaro's passion in life will be found in one or two of the other dimensions discussed in this report.
- He will not be afraid to explore new and different ways of interpreting his own belief system.
- genaro can be creative in interpreting other systems or traditions and selective in applying those traditions.
- Traditions will not place limits or boundaries on genaro.
- He will work within a broadly defined set of beliefs.

NEXT STEPS: POSSIBLE CAREER IDEAS

Today's workplace is in constant change and careers are evolving to keep pace. It is not unusual for people to change careers 4-5 times during their lives. Research indicates that over 50% of working people hold jobs that do not utilize their natural talents, so they are neither fully motivated nor satisfied in their work.

Given these realities, it is more important than ever to make informed career decisions based on a solid understanding of yourself. The list of jobs below has been designed to spark your imagination and provide ideas. The message is: "Your options are many." These ideas are not meant to put you in a box or represent a definitive list of options. If your dream job isn't on the list, don't worry, go for it!
